

Connecticut ARP Child Care Stabilization Fact Sheet

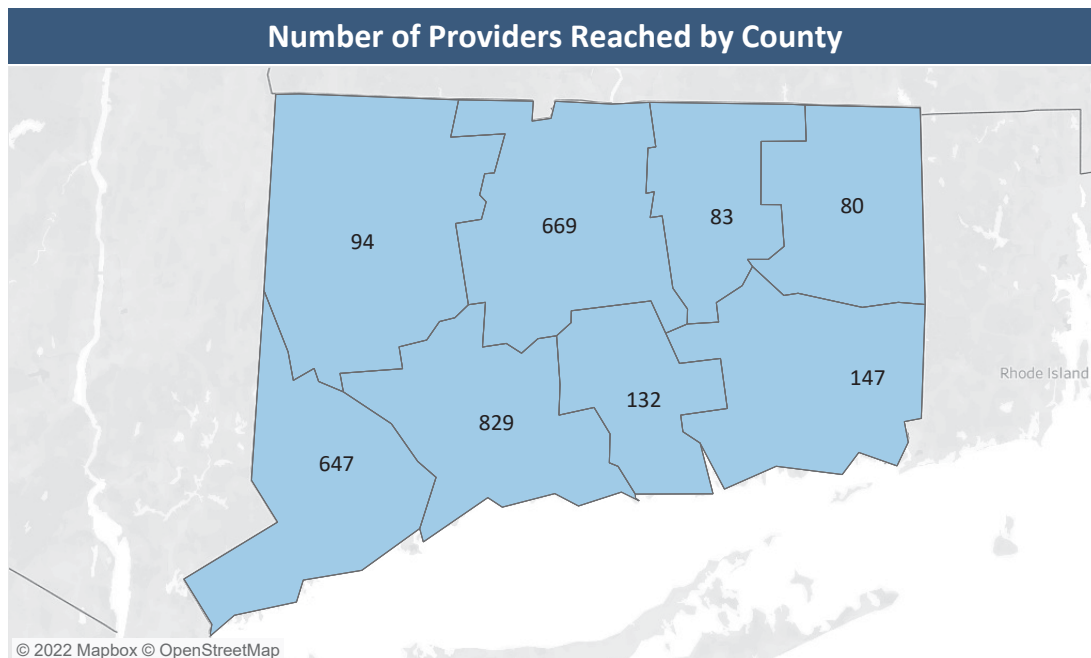

2,575 Child Care Programs in Connecticut have already Received American Rescue Plan Stabilization Support, Impacting up to 104,900 Children

ARP's historic investment provided Connecticut with $169.9 million for their Child Care Stabilization program. The program has been critical to helping child care centers and family child care providers remain open or reopen, keeping child care workers on the payroll, and ensuring families have reliable options for high quality care while they work. Child care programs are mostly small businesses and are essential for families, communities, and the economy.

The ARP Child Care Stabilization program has been an unprecedented lifeline for the child care sector that helped parents return to work and spurred economic recovery. So far, more than 200,000 child care programs serving as many as 9.5 million children have received assistance across the country from this program.

In Connecticut:

- Providers in 100% of Connecticut counties have received funds.
- 1,265 child care centers that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for personnel costs and keep programs staffed.
- 1,360 child care family homes that received stabilization payments most commonly used them to pay for rent and mortgage payments, typically their largest operating expense.
- On average, child care centers have received an award of $85,300 and family homes received $10,300. The final award sizes are expected to increase as payments continue into 2023.

County totals may not sum to the state total due to rounding.

Note: ACF-901 data through June 30, 2022.

CT's center and family child care data included a small number of duplicate counts, so do not sum to the correct total.
